

Freedom to focus

Information technology drives the modern enterprise. The pressure to innovate and deliver is relentless, as are the users' demands for quality.

Qual IT's Managed Testing Service enables you to focus on delivering successful outcomes for your organisation, while we take care of quality assurance.

It gives you the freedom to focus on getting the most from your IT investment.

Delivering higher quality at a lower cost

Managing and maintaining your own testing practice comes at a cost – not to mention a headache. Be it the cost of attracting and retaining quality personnel, the balance of having the perfect number of resources available at all times, or the struggle to keep abreast of development trends and the ever changing technology environment. Every one of these components is taking your focus away from what you are best at – delivering quality outcomes to your business.

With Qual IT's Managed Testing Service, you can expect measurable levels of product quality, fully managed and delivered by Qual IT's 200+ test and assurance professionals across New Zealand. You will have access to our full breadth of quality related services, delivered by New Zealand's best and brightest testing professionals.

"They've got a great level of knowledge. The ability to keep the people, the intellectual knowledge on board for us over a long period of time is invaluable."

TRANSPOWER

Dave Waine
Programme Manager for Critical Services
Transpower

We're ready to share the risk

Qual IT's Managed Testing Service is designed to mitigate quality risks for your company. This is achieved by engaging an independent external party to provide the testing resources required at any stage in the process, while managing the training, development and outcomes the whole way through. It provides your company with enhanced, predictable and cost effective quality outcomes, as well as delivering a programme of testing efficiencies throughout the contract period.

We take responsibility for all the testing and quality outcomes as well as sharing the risk in project delays and issues, ensuring that we work actively with the company's IT delivery function.

As your testing demand fluctuates, Qual IT adjusts our resourcing to match. Only the required resources will be provided and the whole transition will be managed by Qual IT, removing the responsibility and pressure from your company.

The cost benefit of this outcome focussed approach can be up to 20% when compared to other, more traditional models, as you only pay for the testing required, as it is required.

Outcomes of a Managed Testing Service

- Decreased testing cycle time and product time to market
- Increased stakeholder engagement through increased solution quality
- Testing service KPIs and SLAs aimed at achieving business goals
- Realisation of cost savings and benefits compared to traditional models
- Best-in-class testing services
- A fully flexible, scalable testing resource model
- Increasing innovation and knowledge sharing
- Continuous quality process improvements

Qual IT's Managed Testing Service

- A full range of testing services including test consulting, test management, test design, test execution
- Supply and management of fully qualified testing professionals
- Advice regarding strategic planning in testing services and trends, keeping up with the latest testing technology
- Overall programme and project level reporting including KPI and SLA reporting
- Managing the testing activities required on projects programmes, and BAU
- Additional value-add services as required

Are you ready for the challenge?

Qual IT provides IT quality assurance services to some of New Zealand's largest and most successful organisations. Clients partner with Qual IT to gain greater confidence that their major IT investments will deliver.

We help organisations begin with the end in mind, focussing on how best to achieve a quality return on IT investments. From developing the initial IT strategy, scoping projects through to delivery and maintenance, Qual IT help you focus on what's critical to getting a successful outcome.

Qual IT is here with a qualified, capable team and equipped with proven processes and tools to ensure you get it right throughout the entire journey.

Qual IT. Get Ready.
www.qualit.co.nz

Auckland
09 523 4550

Wellington
04 472 3745

Christchurch
03 341 5145

